

The Trouble With Research Writing and What We Can Do About It

Wednesday, January 16, 2019
11:30 AM to 12:30 PM ET
2400 Century Center,
Room 1015C

Also available via ReadyTalk Webinar
Registration Today

Scrutiny of the research literature reveals phenomena like irreproducibility and image manipulation, but there are also subtler problems, such as superficial methods, micro-plagiarism, and a decline in standard academic English. In this talk, Matarese will examine factors that shape the writing of research articles. She will review current initiatives to promote the usability of the research literature, and propose another approach that improves both the quality of the product and the efficiency of the process, explaining why now is the moment for change.

Valerie Matarese, PhD
Science Editor and Author of Editing Research: the AUTHOR EDITING Approach to Providing Effective Support to Writers of Research Papers
(via Web link)